Clifden Station House Hotel

Meetings and Events

The Clifden Station House Hotel is located in the town of Clifden, Co. Galway in the heart of Connemara, and is the perfect location to host your next meeting or company event. The town boasts an all-year-round charm and a truly welcoming atmosphere.

The Clifden Station House is built around the old Clifden railway station, which first opened in 1895, and comprises a 78 Bedroom Hotel, The Carriage Restaurant, The Signal Bar & Restaurant, Leisure Centre, Renew Spa, Museum and 15 Self-Catering Apartments.

The Clifden Station House features excellent meeting and event facilities, including a 200 seat theatre with full AV support on-site along with boardrooms, break-out areas and a large ballroom for gala dinners.

If you are looking to add an extra wow factor to your event The Clifden Station House is uniquely positioned to offer a wide range of activities and excursions. Hill-walking, climbing, horse riding, trekking, golfing, water sports, river, lake or sea fishing and cruises to Inishbofin or from Killary Harbour are all available within 30 minutes of the hotel!

Theatre and Conference

Our Station House Theatre is situated within the charming Station House courtyard. The Station House Theatre is the ideal venue for your conference, exhibition, private or public meeting or event. Restored within the original railway station goods store, the theatre has a flexible 200-tiered seating facility.

The conference facilities at the Station House Theatre are designed to accommodate the demanding business requirements of small to medium-sized conferences. Facilities include state of the art audio-visual equipment, fibre based WiFi and network connectivity, overhead and video projectors, audio equipment and full catering service available on site.

Our dedicated sales team are available to help you organise any conference, event or live show.

Carriage Restaurant – Signal Bar & Restaurant

Our award-winning Head Chef Pascal Marinot has curated a menu for the Carriage Restaurant using the finest local fresh produce and featuring some of Connemara's most famous exports; Killary Mussels, Connemara Lamb, Cleggan Bay Crab, and more. A native to Provence, Pascal has a traditional approach to French Cooking and Cuisine. Having lived and worked in Connemara for the last 30 years, he has applied this approach to the regions favourite dishes, with wonderful results.

Unwind in the cozy and welcoming setting of The Signal Bar, which offers a more casual dining experience, where you can sink your teeth into a mouthwatering gourmet burger or delight in traditional Irish dishes. Relax after a day exploring Connemara and sip on expertly crafted cocktails, locally brewed beers, or a fine selection of wines. This Victorian era building was the original Clifden Train Station and is full of old-world charm with many of the original features still on display.
